

OBJECTIVES:

- Demonstrate competency in providing health care to individual, sick or well, using nursing process
- Apply knowledge from the humanities, biological and behavioral sciences in functioning as a nurse.
- Function effectively with members of the health team and community applying the knowledge of human relations and communication skills in her work.
- Participate as member of the health team in delivery of curative preventive, promotive and rehabilitative health care service.
- Mobilize community resources and their involvement in working with the communities
- Demonstrate use of ethical values in their personal and professional life.
- Demonstrate interest in activities of professional organization.
- Recognize the need for continuing education for professional development.
- Demonstrate basic skills in teaching patients and giving nursing care to them.
- Demonstrate basic skills in administration and leadership while working with other members of health team and community.
- Assist in research activities.

PO No	Attributes	Competencies
PO1	Ability to adapt nursing interventions based on individual needs and conditions.	Demonstrate clinical judgment in nursing interventions based on individual patient needs.
PO2	Strong foundational understanding of biological, psychological, and social aspects influencing health.	Synthesize and apply knowledge from different fields to assess, plan, and implement nursing care.
PO3	Interpersonal and communication skills working with multidisciplinary healthcare teams.	Communicate clearly and empathetically with patients, families, and team members.
PO4	Knowledge and understanding of different levels of healthcare (curative, preventive, promotive, rehabilitative).	Provide comprehensive care that incorporates all aspects of healthcare.
PO5	Understanding of local health resources, social services, and community organizations.	Facilitate and coordinate community-based health programs and interventions.
PO6	Knowledge of ethical guidelines and legal standards in nursing practice.	Demonstrate ethical behaviors in professional interactions, respecting patient autonomy, confidentiality, and dignity.
PO7	Awareness of the importance of professional organizations in advancing the nursing profession.	Join and participate in relevant professional nursing organizations.
PO8	Understanding of the value of continuing education in improving patient care.	Apply new knowledge and techniques in clinical practice to enhance care delivery.

PO9	Understanding of patient teaching methods and educational materials.	Adapt teaching techniques to the needs and learning preferences of the patient.
PO10	Leadership qualities and management skills essential for guiding teams in healthcare settings.	Provide leadership in nursing teams, guiding care delivery and ensuring effective teamwork.