

Objectives of the P.B. B.Sc. Nursing Program

The program is designed to:

- Assess health status, identify nursing needs, plan, implement and evaluate nursing care for patients/ clients that contribute to health of individuals, families and communities.
- Demonstrate competency in techniques of nursing based on concepts and principles from selected areas of nursing, physical, and behavioural sciences
- Participate as members of health team in the promotive, preventive, curative and restorative health care delivery system of the country.
- Demonstrate skills in communication and interpersonal relationship.
- Demonstrate leadership qualities and decision making abilities in various situations.
- Demonstrate skills in teaching to individuals and groups in community health settings.
- Practice ethical values in personal and professional life.
- Participate in research activities and utilize research findings in improving nursing practice.
- Recognize the need for continued learning for personal and professional development.

PROGRAM OUTCOME

PO No	Attributes	Competencies
PO1	Competence in nursing process and patient Care	Assess health status and identify nursing needs for individuals, families, and communities.
PO2	Integration of nursing, physical, and behavioural sciences	Apply knowledge from nursing, physical, and behavioural sciences to clinical practice.
PO3	Teamwork and interdisciplinary collaboration	Coordinate with other healthcare professionals in promotive, preventive, curative, and restorative healthcare.
PO4	Effective communication and relationship building	Demonstrate skills in verbal and non-verbal communication with patients, families, and healthcare teams.
PO5	Leadership and professional judgment	Exhibit leadership qualities in clinical and community settings.
PO6	Health promotion and patient education	Educate individuals and groups in community health settings.
PO7	Ethical and legal practice in nursing	Adhere to ethical and legal principles in professional practice.
PO8	Critical thinking and problem solving research application	Participate in research activities relevant to nursing and healthcare.